

Assistant Professor (post doc) in the group of research staff 55/2022/NA/WNST/ICH/pd/1

Location: Katowice

Reference Number.: 55/2022/NA/WNST/ICH/pd/1

RECTOR OF THE UNIVERSITY OF SILESIA IN KATOWICE

announces the open call for the position of Assistant Professor (post doc) in the group of research staff in the research project: NCN SONATA, pt. „ Understanding of conductive properties of nanofluids in nanopores for a new generation of triboelectric nanogenerators – Nano2-fluid” led by Yaroslav Grosu, PhD

Place of work: Faculty of Science and Technology, Institute of Chemistry

Job location: ul. Bankowa 14, 40-007 Katowice

Number of available positions: 1

Key words: intrusion-extrusion, wettability, triboloading

Applications to the open call may be submitted by those who meet the conditions specified in Section 113 of the Act – Law on Higher Education and Science of 20 July 2018 (i.e., Journal of Law 2023 item 742)

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES:

- conducting scientific research in the discipline of chemical sciences,
- participation in the scientific projects and grants in the candidate's country and abroad,
- active participation in the scientific conferences in Poland and abroad,
- educating the scientific staff and supporting young researchers, doctoral students and MA students in their scientific research,
- publishing research results in the journals with the Influence Factor (IF) and with the number of ministry points above the cut-off point for the discipline of chemical sciences,
- realization of the organizational tasks in accordance with the Individual Assignment of Duties.

QUALIFICATION REQUIREMENTS:

- minimum PhD degree in chemical sciences, chemical engineering or physical sciences awarded not earlier than 7 years before the date of the planned employment in the project,
- English: fluent in speaking and writing (min. B2),
- documented scientific research indexed in Scopus or Web of Science in the discipline of chemical sciences/material engineering/chemical engineering/physical sciences – published in journals with the high IF factor,
- preferred research subject including triboelectric generators, nanofluids, nanoporous materials, wettability,
- competences allowing for internationalization of the scientific activity, in particular to independently disseminate research results orally and in writing, independently edit manuscripts of scientific publications, and orally present research results in English.

ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS:

- experience in research of the liquid-solid type triboelectric nanogenerators,
- experience in synthesis of the hybrid materials for the needs of designing triboelectric nanogenerators,
- experience in the experimental work connected with the intrusion-extrusion processes,
- experience in measuring wetting angles,
- experience in the research of phenomena in nanoscale, especially the wetting phenomena,
- self-reliance, organization skills,
- readiness to work in a team,
- readiness for scientific mobility,
- readiness to share the knowledge and experience with others.

WE OFFER THE FOLLOWING:

- full time employment in the NCN SONARA project: „ Understanding of conductive properties of nanofluids in nanopores for a new generation of triboelectric nanogenerators – Nano2-fluid” led by Yaroslav Grosu, PhD under the fixed period employment contract (36 months)
- employment at the University as the primary workplace,
- monthly remuneration in the amount of 7700 PLN gross (with the employer's costs included),
- additional remuneration components in accordance with the Remuneration regulations of the University of Silesia,
- pro-quality bonus for special achievements according to regulations in force,
- task-based working time,
- opportunity for further professional development,
- social benefits package,
- work environment supporting sustainable development based on the diversity, equality and inclusion,
- group life insurance for the University employees and their families,
- private medical care as a part of additional health insurance for the University employees and their families,
- ability to join the Occupational Pension Scheme and the group pension insurance POGODNA JESIEN.

REQUIRED DOCUMENTS:

- motivation letter,
- scientific resume (CV),
- copies of documents confirming candidate's education (or scans of such documents),
- list of the candidate's scientific achievements,
- candidate's statement in which they declare that during the time they get the remuneration for the work in the project they will not receive any other remuneration from the means assigned as a part of direct costs of scientific projects financed from the National Science Centre programmes, or other remuneration from any other employer on the basis of employment contract, including the employer whose seat is beyond the territory of Poland,
- other documentation mentioned in the open call requirements.

SCHEDULE OF THE CALL:

- application submission deadline: 5th of May 2024 (11:59 p.m. CET)
- the selection process will be concluded by the: 4th of July 2024

Additionally we want to inform that the candidate must fulfil the following conditions:

- the candidate has been awarded their PhD by other entity than the University of Silesia in Katowice, or they had a minimum 10 month of the uninterrupted and documented post-doctoral internship in other institution than the University of Silesia and in other country than the country where they were awarded their PhD
- during the period when the candidate receives the remuneration for their full-time work in the project, they shall not receive any other remuneration as a part of direct costs in research projects financed by the NCN programmes.
- during the period when the candidate receives the remuneration for their full-time work in the project, they will not receive remuneration arising from the employment contract concluded with other employer, that has its residence in Poland or in other country.

OPEN CALL PROCEDURE:

Applications received after the deadline, incomplete applications and applications submitted in any other way than defined in the open call announcement shall not be considered.

The open call is conducted and solved by the open call committee appointed by the Rector. The open call procedure consists of two stages:

1) the formal assessment of the submitted documents,

2) merit-based evaluation of the candidates.

The formal assessment is preceded by the initial verification of the submitted documents confirming fulfilment of the requirements defined in the open call announcement. In the case of doubts the open call committee may call the applicant to complete the documentation in the defined period of time.

The open call committee prepares a list of persons whose applications fulfil the open call requirements to the greatest extent and invites them for an interview.

The interview may take place in person or by using the electronic means of communication. Invited candidates may be asked to prepare additional materials for the needs of presentation of their candidacy during the interview.

The open call committee may resign from conducting the interview if they state that the applications submitted in the open call do not fulfil the open call requirements.

The open call is solved by way of resolution adopted by the open call committee by secret ballot with the simple majority of votes.

The applicants are notified about the results of the open call. The applicants have a right to appeal against the open call committee's decision in writing within 7 days from the day they are notified about the result of the open call. The appeal shall be considered by the Rector within the period of maximum 30 days.

The final, binding decision on employment of the candidate selected and recommended by the open call committee is made by the Rector.

The University reserves the right to leave the call unresolved.

APPLICATIONS:

Submitting an application in response to this Call means accepting the GDPR information clause available in the Application form.

The required documents shall be submitted electronically using the application form, available by clicking "Apply".

Apply

IMPORTANT INFORMATION:

The condition necessary for employment of the candidate selected in the selection proceedings is the fulfilment of the obligations arising from Section 265(4), (5), (13) of the Act – Law on Higher Education and Science of 20 July 2018 (i.e., Journal of Law 2023 item 742).

In the case of applying for employment at the University of Silesia in Katowice as the primary place of work, candidates employed in other higher education institutions as their primary place of work, should, as of the day of their employment, fulfil the requirement defined in art. 120, section 2 of the Act – Law on Higher Education and Science of 20 July 2018 (i.e., Journal of Law 2023 item 742) according to which an academic may have only one primary place of work at a time.

In the case of person selected as a result of the open call selection procedure, who has obtained their academic degree, their degree in arts or their professional title abroad, and whose academic degree, degree in arts or their professional title has not been recognized as equivalent with the adequate Polish degree or title, employment of such person is possible in accordance with art. 116 section 2a of the Act – Law on Higher Education and Science of 20 July 2018 (i.e., Journal of Law 2023 item 742) in accordance with the procedure in force at the University or on the basis of the nostrification procedure, for which the candidate shall apply.

GDPR information clause for the candidates

1. Personal data controller

The University of Silesia in Katowice is the controller of your personal data. You can contact the controller in the following manner:

- by post to: Bankowa 12, 40-007 Katowice
- by e-mail: administrator.danych@us.edu.pl

2. Data protection supervisor

You may contact the Data Protection Supervisor in all matters concerning the processing of your personal data and the exercise of your rights relating to the processing of data as follows:

- by post to: Bankowa 12, 40-007 Katowice
- by e-mail: iod@us.edu.pl

3. Purposes of the processing and legal basis of the processing

We will process your personal data to:

- assess your qualifications, abilities and skills required for the position you are applying for,
- select the right person to work with us.

The legal basis for the processing of your personal data is Article 6(1)(a), (c), (e) and (f) and Article 9(2)(a) of the Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of individuals with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (General Data Protection Regulation):

- Your consent to the processing of personal data provided in your CV and the cover letter, if you provide us with data other than your: first names and surname; date of birth; contact details; educational background; professional qualifications; your employment history to date.
- Your consent to the processing of your personal data in order to use it in the next recruitment processes conducted by the University of Silesia in Katowice for the next 9 months.

Your personal data which cannot be processed pursuant to legal provision will be processed when the candidate expresses his/her voluntary consent thereto.

- Your explicit consent to the processing of special categories of personal data i.e. sensitive data, as referred to in Article 9(1) of GDPR (inter alia health data), provided on the applicant's own initiative;
- fulfilling the legal obligation resting upon the controller, resulting from Article 22¹ paragraphs 1 and 2 of the Labour Code, with regard to the personal data which the employer requires from the candidate, i.e. first and last names; date of birth; contact details; and in case it is necessary to perform a specific type of work or on a specific position, it also requests information on education; professional qualifications; history of previous employment. The processing of your personal data for purposes and within the scope exceeding the aforementioned personal data requires your voluntary consent (Article 221a of the Labour Code).

The provision of personal data is a statutory requirement, necessary for participation in the recruitment process. If you do not provide the data, it will not be possible to accomplish the aforementioned purpose.

- to comply with the legal obligation resting upon the controller, resulting, in particular, from the Act on Higher Education and Science, and implementing provisions issued on the basis thereof. Processing of your personal data for the purposes of and within the scope exceeding the personal data necessary for the purposes of the competition procedure requires your voluntary consent.

The provision of personal data is a statutory requirement, necessary for the purposes of the competition procedure. If you do not provide the data, it will not be possible to accomplish the aforementioned purpose.

- the legal task executed in the public interest, resulting in particular from Article 11(1) of the Law on Higher Education and Science;
- our legitimate interest as regards the data collected during the recruitment process in order to verify your skills and ability to work on the position you apply for.

The Act on Higher Education and Science, on the one hand, imposes public tasks on higher education institutions which they must carry out (Article 11(1)), and, on the other hand, guarantees them autonomy in all areas of their operation on conditions laid down in the Act (Article 9(2)), which allows higher education institutions to define their own detailed objectives and forms of activity within the framework of the status defined by law. A higher education institution as an academic community composed of staff, students and PhD students, exercising the tasks set forth in the Act, enjoys the autonomy granted and is guided by the European academic tradition.

4. Period of storage of personal data

Your personal data collected in the current recruitment process will be stored until the end of the recruitment process. In case of expressing additional consent to the use of personal data for the purposes of future recruitments, they will be processed for a period of 9 months, but no longer than until the withdrawal of your consent.

5. Data recipients

Your personal data will not be transferred to any third parties.

6. Rights relating to the processing of personal data

You have the following rights in relation to the processing of personal data:

- the right to withdraw your consent to data processing, see below;
- the right to access to your personal data;
- the right to demand the rectification of your personal data if you are incorrect and supplementing incomplete information;
- the right to have your personal data removed, in particular if you withdraw your consent to the processing, when there is no other legal basis for the processing;
- the right to demand a restriction of the processing of your personal data;
- the right to object to the processing of your data, due to your specific situation, in cases where we process your data on the basis of our legitimate interest, including for direct marketing purposes, or for the fulfilment of a public task. NOTE: in the case of processing data for direct marketing purposes, objections may be raised at any time regardless of the specific situation;
- the right to transfer your personal data, i.e. the right to receive your personal data from us, in a structured, machine-readable, commonly used IT format. You may send the data to another data controller or request that we send your data to another controller. However, we will only do so if such a transfer is technically feasible.
- You only have the right to transfer your personal data if we process the data in an automated way, i.e. in electronic form, on the basis of a contract with you or on the basis of your consent;
- the right not to be subject only to automated decision making, including profiling
- the right to lodge a complaint with the data protection supervisory authority, i.e. the President of the Office for Personal Data Protection,

The right to withdraw consent

To the extent that your data are processed on the basis of your consent, you have the right to withdraw your consent to data processing at any time. The withdrawal of consent does not affect the lawfulness of the processing that was carried out on the basis of your consent before it was withdrawn. You may withdraw your consent by sending a statement of withdrawal to our postal address or e-mail address: iod@us.edu.pl.

* concerns only the candidates applying for academic positions