

Post-doc, research position, Institute of Physics Faculty of Technical Physics, Informatics and Applied Mathematics

Lodz University of Technology is one of the finest universities of technology in Poland. Its tradition and experience in training professionals and conducting research date back more than 80 years. It is an attractive partner for business. It operates with the largest national and international corporations. It conducts research of a European standard, develops new technologies and creates innovation in collaboration with the leading research centres all over the world. One of the pillars of Lodz University of Technology management is equal treatment of staff regardless of their gender, age, race or other demographic and social characteristics. In 2016, TUL was the first technical university in Poland to receive the HR EXCELLENCE IN RESEARCH award certifying that the University adheres to the principles of the European Charter for Researchers and the Code of Conduct for the Recruitment of Researchers.

1. The requirements to be met by the candidate (detailed description of the knowledge, qualifications, skills, and professional experience):

- PhD degree in physics, specialization: computational physics, solid-state physics, optics, or PhD degree in mathematics, or PhD degree in information and communication technology
- good knowledge of optics, solid-state physics, technology of semiconductor lasers,
- good programming skills (C/C++/python)
- published papers from recent years including current publishing activity
- fluency in English.

Formal requirements (based on Załącznik nr 2 do Regulaminu przyznawania środków na realizację zadań finansowanych przez Narodowe Centrum Nauki w zakresie projektów badawczych, określonego uchwałą Rady NCN nr 50/2023 z dnia 11 maja 2023 r.) for the applicant:

- An obligatory formal eligibility criterion for admission to the competition is obtaining a doctoral degree in the year of employment in the project or within the 7 years preceding 1 January of the year of employment in the project (in the case of persons who have obtained more than one doctoral degree, the reference date is the date of obtaining the first degree). This period may be extended by the time spent during this period on documented long-term sick leave (over 90 days) or rehabilitation benefits due to incapacity for work. Additionally, this period may be extended by the number of months spent on leave related to childcare and child-rearing granted under the rules set out in the Labour Code, and, in the case of women intending to apply to the competition, by 18 months for each child born or adopted, if this method of indicating career breaks is more advantageous. The period specified above may not be shortened or further extended by the competition organizer;
- The project leader was not the supervisor or auxiliary supervisor of the applicant's doctoral dissertation;
- The candidate obtained a doctoral degree at an institution other than the one at which employment in this position is planned, or completed a continuous, documented postdoctoral fellowship of at least 10 months at an institution other than the project-implementing institution and in a country other than the country in which the doctoral degree was obtained;
- During the period of receiving this remuneration, the candidate will not receive any other remuneration from funds awarded as part of direct costs from research projects financed under NCN calls;
- During the period of receiving this remuneration, the candidate will not be employed under an employment contract with another employer, including an employer based outside the territory of Poland;
- During the period of receiving this remuneration, the candidate will not receive retirement benefits from the social security system

2. Specification of the terms and conditions of employment and authority associated with the position:
